Summer Student Programme 2013: Deadline for applications is March 31st, 2013! <sup>[1]</sup>

Wednesday, 13 March, 2013

We would like to remind you that the closing date for the Summer Student applications is March 31st, 2013. The openlab student programme is open for applications from bachelor, master and PhD students in computer science and physics. Successful applicants will spend two full months (nine weeks) at CERN, during the period June to September 2013, to work with some of the latest hardware and software technologies.

You can find more information regarding the openlab Summer Student Program at the previous post <sup>[2]</sup>.

We wish you good luck for your application!
