ICE-DIP, ^[3]the Intel-CERN European Doctorate Industrial Programme, is a Marie Curie Actions ^[4] project within the European Union's 7th Framework Programme. For its newly opened research posts, ICE-DIP is recruiting 5 bright candidates (Early Stage Researchers - ESRs) in the areas of computer science and engineering to undertake doctoral training.

The 5 different vacancies (along with their project descriptions) are available in the jobs section ^[5] of this website.

Successful applicants will be offered a CERN Fellowship contract with a maximum duration of 3 years.

Feel free to share this information with your colleagues and friends! The deadline for applications has been extended to 31 May 2013.
