Best presentations of the first lightning talks' session ^[1]

Thursday, 20 August, 2015

The first half of the CERN openlab summer students 2015 were invited to give "Lightning Talks" ^[3] yesterday afternoon.

In five minutes, they introduced the audience to their project, explained the technical challenges they faced, and analysed the results of their work.

A panel composed of CERN IT department experts and the audience voted for their three preferred talks. According to the combined results, the three best presentations were given by:

Charles Newey ^[4] - Streamlining Log Monitoring in IT-DB ^[3]

Jorge Costa ^[5] - RapidIO Usage in a Big Data Environment ^[3]

Enrico Guiraud ^[6] - Enhancements to multiprocessing in ROOT ^[3]

The CERN openlab team would like to warmly congratulate all the summer students who participated!

The second half of the students will be presenting in a week time on 26 August. To know more about this upcoming event that will be webcasted ^[7] please check the event webpage ^[8].
