ICE-DIP Project presentation to the EU Commissioner ^[1]

Date:

Monday, 15 April, 2013 - 12:00 to 12:55

Location:

CERN, Meyrin site, Switzerland ^[2]

Androulla Vassiliou, the EU Commissioner for Education, Culture, Multilingualism and Youth, has planned a visit at CERN on Monday, 15 April to meet scientists and researchers supported with funding from the EU Marie Curie Actions ^[3].

Among the projects that will be presented is the ICE-DIP ^[4] project, the Intel-CERN European Doctorate Industrial Programme that will focus on computer science and engineering research topics.

A. Nowak, CERN openlab member, will present the official project's poster and will briefly introduce the Commissioner to ICE-DIP's objectives as well as the partners involved
