Harry Cutts <sup>[1]</sup>

Biography:

Harry Cutts is about to start the final year of his MEng Computer Science course at the University of Southampton. He is interested in Information Security, User Interface Design and Robotics. At CERN he is working on a mobile application for the Invenio document repository, using the Cordova framework. Last summer he worked for Snowflake Software, creating a Web-based job control interface. In his spare time he is an active fencer, and volunteers for Student Robotics, an annual robotics competition aimed at encouraging high school students into engineering.
