The Open Cloud specialist Rackspace Hosting has a cooperation with the CERN openlab closed. As part of a long-term cooperation, they intend to provide a hybrid cloud solution based on OpenStack for public and private clouds available.

The partnership between the cloud and hosting provider Rackspace Hosting (NYSE: RAX, WKN: 938 334) and the CERN builds on the longstanding experience of CERN in terms of internal IT on to private cloud solutions on an open source cloud operating system to develop.
