New design unveiled for our new phase ^[1]

Monday, 19 June, 2017

We're pleased to announce that CERN openlab has officially launched its new logo and design package today! We're working on a whole new array of communications tools for the start of our new three-year phase in 2018, including a brand new website! We'll use these tools in our efforts to further spread the word about the groundbreaking work carried out through our unique public-private partnership. Help us to spread the word about CERN openlab by sharing our new brochure: <http://cern.ch/go/9nJm> ^[3]
